

Whether your voice will speak of religion, race, or freedom, we all have a voice. What I have learned from the class, Speak with Confidence, Comfort and Conviction.

Stand up not sit down
Let your voice be heard
Follow your ideas
Do what you are afraid of
Speak to be heard
Rise up, rise up

Release your tongue
Speak freely
Be proud of who you are
Celebrate life with your voice
Speak to be heard
Rise up, rise up

Stand up, not stand by
Believe with your heart
Master your voice
Speak to be heard
Rise up, rise up, rise up

No longer will we stand in a corner quietly
No longer in darkness without a voice
Let them hear your voice,
Let them hear your cry
Hear my words for they are important
Speak to be heard
Speak to be heard
Rise up, rise up, rise up

Michael Flagg
June 11, 2014