

Simply Maine™

Showcasing the natural and simplistic beauty from the Maine Coast to the Maine Woods

From living in a lighthouse on the Maine coast to a log cabin in the Maine woods, Lee Ann and Thomas Mark Szelog have documented life, human and wild, in 2 quintessential Maine homes and beyond. They share extraordinary photographs and stories of Maine's lighthouses, nature and wildlife to entertain, inspire and introduce audiences to Maine's simple and remarkable beauty. Learn more (link to page titled, Simply Maine Tom & Lee Szelog link)

Maine provides an extraordinary amount of calm from its simple beauty. Taking time to embrace the quiet of life's most simple, yet grand pleasures can be challenging in this day and age. Lee offers a series of photographs and inspirational messages as notecards titled, Simply Maine. These notecards can be ordered individually, or make the perfect attendee gift to complement any event at which Lee speaks. Learn more (link to page titled Simply Maine link)

Lee and Tom's documentation of living in a lighthouse and a log cabin has resulted in the publication of 2 books. The first, the multi-award-winning book, Our Point of View-Fourteen Years at a Maine Lighthouse, featuring Marshall Point Lighthouse in Port Clyde, Maine. The second, By a Maine River - A Year of Looking Closely, explores the natural beauty found in their own backyard in Whitefield, Maine. Learn more below:

By A Maine River Information as it currently is on website (book cover, description and link)

Our Point of View information as it currently is on website (book cover, description and link)

Reminder notes to designer about Simply Maine page:

1. Please be sure to include on this page, the following that are currently on the existing website in the left hand column:
  - a. book reviews
  - b. NECN video and
  - c. Dr. Lisa audio that is on the left hand side of the Simply Maine page of the existing site.